Tea

Government implemented a Price Subsidy scheme to provide relief to the small growers of tea, reduced the excise duty on tea, increased the import duty on tea, restructed/rescheduled the loans outstanding in the tea sector from commercial banks, provided financial incentives to exporters, introduced the Tea Marketing Control Order, 2003 for greater transparency in the price discovery mechanism for tea etc.

Coconut

In order to ensure remunerative prices to coconut farmers for their produce, Govt. of India fixes Minimum Support Price (MSP) every year for milling copra and ball copra and undertakes price support operations if the price falls below MSP. The Coconut Development Board also encourages diversification of coconut products and value added products and its market promotion activities to stabilise the declining trend in the price of coconut.

Arecanut

For helping-arecanut farmers to get remunerative prices for their produce, Govt. of India implemented a Market Intervention Scheme (MIS) in Goa, Andaman and Nicobar islands and Karnataka.

Rubber

To safeguard the interest of the growers of rubber, Government has taken a number of measures which include market intervention operation through STC during 1997 to 2001, fixing and notifying the minimum price of rubber, continuing the ban on import of Natural Rubber even in the Quantitative Restrictions free regime and curbing surge in imports of Natural Rubber by enforcing quality standards formulated by Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) on imported rubber also and restricting import of Natural Rubber through two ports viz. Vishakhapatnam and Kolkata only.
